VCA Shoreline Veterinary Referral & Emergency Center has teamed up with Connecticut Emergency Animal Response Service (EARS) to provide an Animal Ambulance Service for the specialty transport of ill, injured, or critical patients from the region into the hospital. Our fully stocked ambulance is available to transfer critically ill pets, including those needing oxygen, monitoring, fluids, or other requirements to our facility from local veterinary practices. We are ready and able to handle patients from small cats to large breed dogs, and carry special equipment for each type of transport.

Some of this includes:

- Pet Stretchers
- Onboard Oxygen Flow & An Oxygen Cage
- Triage Supplies
- Lift-Assist For Large Dogs
- IV Pump & Patient Monitoring Equipment
- Climate Controlled Transport
- Safe, Comfortable, & Compassionate Care
- Direct In-Transport Communication With VCA Shoreline Staff
- Patient Vital Sign Monitoring Every 5 Minutes (Or Less)

The ambulance is available on-call 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and responds to all requests as quickly as possible. And while we primarily operate in Fairfield and New Haven Counties, we do dispatch throughout Connecticut when there is a need.
